Effective fall 2018, students in the Mechanical Engineering program are required to:
- complete at least one of: MEGR 3216 and MEGR 3221
- complete at least 120 credits without a concentration or 121 credits with a concentration

1 – I plan to graduate in spring 2018 (May) – how does this affect me?
There are no changes for students who plan to graduate in spring 2018.

2 – I want to graduate in summer 2018 (June or August) – how does this affect me?
There are no changes for students who want to graduate in summer 2018.

3 – I am registered for MEGR 3216 in summer 2018 as the last class that I need to complete a BSME – what should I do?
Option 1 – we encourage you to successfully complete MEGR 3216 in summer 2018 and graduate in August 2018.
Option 2 – you may drop MEGR 3216 in the summer and wait to graduate in December 2018.

4 – I am registered for MEGR 3216 in summer 2018 along with one or several other classes that I need to complete a BSME – what should I do?
Option 1 – we encourage you to successfully complete MEGR 3216 and your other required courses in summer 2018 and graduate in August 2018.
Option 2 – you may drop MEGR 3216 in the summer, complete the other courses that you need and wait to graduate in December 2018.

5 – What do I do if I receive a grade of D in MEGR 3116 in spring 2018?
A grade of D in MEGR 3116 is considered passing. You are required to repeat MEGR 3116 only if you want to take MEGR 3216 or a technical elective that requires a C or better in 3116.

6 – What do I do if I receive a grade of D in MEGR 3112 in spring 2018?
A grade of D in MEGR 3112 is considered passing. You are required to repeat MEGR 3112 only if you want to take MEGR 3216 or a technical elective that requires a C or better in 3112.

7 – Can I take both MEGR 3216 and MEGR 3221?
Yes – students may take both MEGR 3216 and MEGR 3221 and count the second course as one technical elective/Motorsports elective/Biomedical elective/Energy elective.

8 – I took UWRT 1103 or UWRT 1104 – how does this affect me?
If you plan to graduate in fall 2018 or later, you do not need “the extra class” beyond the BSME curriculum that is designated in the last block of your advising plan.

9 – When will my DegreeWorks audit be updated?
We are not certain when DegreeWorks will be updated. It might be sometime in the summer or perhaps at the start of the fall 2018 semester.

10 – I do not plan to graduate until spring 2019 or later, what should I do?
The changes require no action from you now. You can update your advising plan in September when we have advising for early registration in October.

11 – Can I speak to someone about how this affects me?
Yes- to ask questions or schedule an advising appointment, please email MEES Advisors at meesadvisor@uncc.edu.
